

Wednesday, March 10, 2021 | 9:00 am–4:00 pm CT

(All sessions will occur in Central Time.)

9:00–9:10 am	Welcoming Remarks Ajit K. Sachdeva, MD, FACS, FRCSC, FSACME, American College of Surgeons Gyusung Lee, PhD, American College of Surgeons Mandayam Srinivasan, PhD, MIT and University College London, UK
9:10–9:55 am	Keynote Address Russ Taylor, PhD, Johns Hopkins University Medical Robotics and Computer-Aided Surgery: A Three-Way Partnership between Physicians, Technology, and Information to Improve Patient Care
9:55–10:45 am	Special Panel: Surgeons and Engineers Successful Collaboration Robert Sweet, MD, FACS, University of Washington Gregory Hager, PhD, Johns Hopkins University Erik Dutson, MD, FACS, University of California, Los Angeles Silvana Perretta, MD, University Hospital, Strasbourg
10:45–11:00 am	Morning Break
11:00 am–12:30 pm	Abstract Presentations
12:30–1:30 pm	Poster and Exhibitor Visits, Lunch Break
1:30–1:45 pm	Breakout Session Instructions <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Challenges in Writing a Multi-disciplinary and Synergetic Grant Proposal• Overcoming Cultural Challenges Between Surgeons and Engineers (including IP protection and whether a written collaboration agreement will help)• What are the Top Five Challenges in Technology-Enhanced Surgical Education
1:45–2:45 pm	Breakout Session
2:45–3:15 pm	Poster Visits and Afternoon Break
3:15–3:50 pm	Breakout Session Reports and Q/A
3:50–4:00 pm	Closing Mandayam Srinivasan, PhD Gyusung Lee, PhD Ajit Sachdeva, MD, FACS
Post-Meeting Programs
4:00–5:00 pm	Independent Session: Advanced Modular Manikin (AMM)
5:00–5:30 pm	Virtual Networking Reception