The President, 1971-72 American College of Surgeons

Jonathan E. Rhoads, the 52nd President of the American College of Surgeons, is John Rhea Barton Professor of Surgery and Chairman of the Department of Surgery at the School of Medicine, University of Pennsylvania. He is also Director of the School's Harrison Department of Surgical Research. A 1932 graduate of Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine, and a Fellow since 1948, President Rhoads served three successive terms on the Board of Regents of the College, from 1961 to 1970, serving as Vice-Chairman from 1965 to 1967, and as Chairman from 1967 to 1969. He also served on the Board of Governors from 1954-1961. He is a member of the Committee on Surgical Services and of the Committee on Current Legislation.

Medicine is a family affair with the Rhoads'. Edward G. Rhoads, father of the College President, practiced medicine in Germantown, Pa., until he retired in 1925. His great-uncle, Dr. James E. Rhoads, also practiced in Germantown until the last decade of his life when he became President of Bryn Mawr College. Jonathan E., Jr., and George G., the sons of the new President, are physicians, both graduates of Harvard Medical School. Her marriage to Jonathan Rhoads brought into the family Teresa Folin Rhoads, a graduate of the School of Medicine of Johns Hopkins University. His son George added another physician when he married Frances A. Secker, a graduate in medicine from Cambridge University, England. Their remaining children, Margaret Rhoads Kendon, Edward O. F., Charles J. and Philip G., chose other paths of life.

His long career has brought him many honors. Locally, he has served as President of the Philadelphia Academy of Surgery, as President of the Philadelphia College of Physicians and, in 1970, as President of the Philadelphia County Medical Society. Nationally, he holds membership in more than 60 academic, professional, and honorary societies, and has served as President of the Society of Clinical Surgery and the Society for Surgery of the Alimentary Tract. He was one of the founders and first President of the Society of Surgical Chairmen. He has also served as Chairman of the Council of Academic Societies of the Association of American Medical Colleges, on whose Executive Council he has served for four years. In 1970 he was elected to Honorary Fellowship in the Royal College of Surgeons of England.

Dr. Rhoads' main scientific interests have been cancer and the nutrition of surgical patients. In 1970 he served as President of the American Cancer Society and was a member of the panel of advisors appointed by the United States Senate to study the feasibility of a vastly intensified effort to conquer cancer.

In the field of the nutrition of surgical patients he was the recipient, together with Stanley J. Dudrick, of the American Medical Association's annual Goldberger award for his work on intravenous hyperalimentation.

Dr. Rhoads has had a longtime interest in education, outside as well as within the medical field. He has served as a member of the Board of Managers of his alma mater, Haverford College, since 1948, and as Chairman since 1963. He is a trustee and Director of Bryn Mawr College, and served as Provost of the University of Pennsylvania from 1956 to 1959. He served a four-year term on the nine-member Philadelphia School Board, 1965-1970. He holds honorary degrees from the University of Pennsylvania, and from Haverford and Swarthmore Colleges, and is a member of the American Philosophical Society and of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences.

Fellowship Pledge

Recognizing that the American College of Surgeons seeks to exemplify and develop the highest traditions of our profession, I hereby pledge myself, as a condition of Fellowship in the College, to live in strict accordance with all its principles and regulations.

I pledge myself to pursue the practice of surgery with scientific honesty and to place the welfare of my patients above all else; to advance constantly in knowledge; and to render willing help to my colleagues, regard their professional interest, and seek their counsel when in doubt as to my own judgment.

Upon my honor I hereby declare that I will not practice the division of fees, either directly or indirectly. I further promise to make my fees commensurate with the services rendered and with the patient's rights. Moreover, I promise to deal with each patient as I would wish to be dealt with were I in his position.

Finally, I pledge myself to cooperate in advancing and extending the ideas and principles of the American College of Surgeons.

The illustrations in this booklet show surgical instruments used at the time of Ambroise Paré (1510-1590), "Counselor and First Surgeon to the King" (of France). They are reproduced from Les Oeuvres d'Ambroise Paré, a profusely illustrated edition of Paré's works printed in 1579 in Paris. The volume belongs to the College's collection of rare books.
