The President, 1974-75 American College of Surgeons

Charles W. McLaughlin, Jr., the 55th President of the American College of Surgeons, never has had any doubt about what he was going to do for a life's work. "My father was a pioneer physician in eastern Iowa," he recalls, "and when I was about seven he allowed me to carry his medical bag while he made his rounds among the farms and villages surrounding the little town of Washington, where he practiced as a family physician for over sixty years. It was my father's example that prompted me to choose medicine, and although I didn't become a country doctor, whatever success I may have had as a physician I owe to this example and its sustaining power throughout my career."

This career began in 1929, when Dr. McLaughlin received his MD degree from Washington University, St. Louis, after completing his academic degree at the University of Iowa. He served his internship and a second year as resident in pathology at the Montreal General Hospital in Montreal, Canada, and subsequently from 1931-1934 as a Fellow in Surgery at the University Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania. After a year as a Traveling Fellow in Surgery at the University of Edinburgh, Edinburgh, Scotland, under Sir David Wilkie, Dr. McLaughlin, in 1935, entered the private practice of surgery in Omaha, Nebraska.

The same year he joined the teaching staff of the department of surgery at the University of Nebraska as an instructor in surgery on the voluntary faculty. After serving the University successively as an assistant professor and associate professor, Dr. McLaughlin became professor of surgery in 1955, a post he held until 1971. Since then, he has been a senior consultant in surgery to the University.

During the second World War, Dr. McLaughlin was on active duty with the U.S. Naval Reserve from 1941-1946. He served as chief of surgery at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station, Illinois; as chief of surgery at the U.S. Naval Hospital in Corpus Christi, Texas, and, from 1944-1946, as surgeon on the aircraft carrier USS Essex CV-9, in the Pacific Theatre. His awards include seven battle stars, a Presidential Unit Citation, and a Personal Navy Citation from Admiral Richard Spruance, Commander of the Pacific Fleet. He was discharged in 1946 with the rank of Commander.

Dr. McLaughlin has continued his interest in military medicine. He has served as Senior Consultant to the Headquarters of the Strategic Air Command, Offutt Air Force Base, Nebraska, since its establishment in 1947, and as a general surgical consultant to the Surgeon General, U.S. Air Force, Pentagon, since 1967.

The new President of the College became a Fellow in 1937 and immediately took an active interest in the affairs of the College. He became a member of the Board of Governors in 1960, was elected Secretary in 1965, and Chairman of the Board of Governors in 1967, a position he held until 1969 when he became a member of the Board of Regents. Dr. McLaughlin chaired the first Governors' Committee ever commissioned to undertake an in-depth study of surgical care in the country's smaller hospitals, and from 1959-1964 was a College representative on the Tripartite Residency Review Committee in General Surgery. At present, he represents the American College of Surgeons on the Council of Medical Specialty Societies.

He is also a past president of the Nebraska Chapter, a past president of the Omaha-Douglas County Medical Society, and of the Omaha Mid-West Clinical Society.

Dr. McLaughlin's dedication to his profession is matched by his commitment to civic affairs, as exemplified by two awards he received for outstanding service to his community and to his state. In 1965, he was selected King, Ak-Sar-Ben LXXI, the second physician in this 80-year-old organization to be so honored. Ak-Sar-Ben, a civic organization with over 65,000 members, is interested in educational, civic, charitable, and agricultural activities. Annually it selects a citizen as King at the Coronation Ball for outstanding contributions to the community, who serves during the ensuing year. In 1973, he was honored with the Governor's Meritorious Service award—the fourth citizen in the State of Nebraska to receive this distinction. In spite of his numerous professional and civic commitments, the 68-year-old President of the College has published a total of 94 articles on a great variety of surgical subjects. For recreation, he raises roses in the summer and is an avid waterfowl and upland game hunter in the fall months.

Dr. McLaughlin is married to the former Beatrice Reimers. Mrs. McLaughlin is a member of the Omaha Junior League, has served on the Board of the Creche Childrens Home, the Omaha Symphony Orchestra Association, as a Trustee of Avon Old Farm School, Avon, Connecticut, and as past President of the Visiting Nurses Association. Currently, she serves on the Advisory Committee of VNA and on the Executive Committee of the Clarkson Hospital Service League. They have one son, Charles, who is district sales representative for Crown-Zellerback Corporation in Kansas City, Missouri.

Fellowship Pledge

Recognizing that the American College of Surgeons seeks to exemplify and develop the highest traditions of our profession, I hereby pledge myself, as a condition of Fellowship in the College, to live in strict accordance with all its principles and regulations.

I pledge myself to pursue the practice of surgery with scientific honesty and to place the welfare of my patients above all else; to advance constantly in knowledge; and to render willing help to my colleagues, regard their professional interest, and seek their counsel when in doubt as to my own judgment.

Upon my honor I hereby declare that I will not practice the division of fees, either directly or indirectly. I further promise to make my fees commensurate with the services rendered and with the patient's rights. Moreover, I promise to deal with each patient as I would wish to be dealt with were I in his position.

Finally, I pledge myself to cooperate in advancing and extending the ideals and principles of the American College of Surgeons.
